PROFILE

James Nyoro

James Nyoro joined the Rockefeller Foundation in November 2008 as the Managing Director, Africa Regional Office, based in Nairobi-Kenya. His responsibilities include overseeing Foundation work across Africa. Prior to joining the Foundation, James was the Executive Director of Egerton University's Tegemeo Institute, a Nairobi-based policy think-tank. In this role he identified policy needs and developed research themes for African governments and private sector partners. He also participated in the formulation of Kenya Vision 2030, a long-term, national strategy to spur prosperity and global competitiveness. James has a degree in Agriculture from University of Nairobi and a Master's degree in Agricultural Economics from Wye College, University of London.
